

NCS IN YOUR SCHOOL OR COLLEGE

Ofsted guidance for inspectors mentions NCS as a programme likely to be referenced by secondary schools and whose positive impact on pupils, where evidenced, may be considered as part of the inspection report. Below is a suggested checklist of information put together by NCS Trust which can be completed by a school or college highlighting the engagement and impact of NCS on your students.

You can find out how many students took part in NCS in the most recently completed academic year by searching the database at www.ncsyes.co.uk/ncs-in-your-school

If you require any additional information to complete the checklist then please speak to your local NCS delivery partner to find out more. If you are not currently in touch with your local NCS team you can find out who they are by contacting education@ncstrust.co.uk

NCS has been shown to have fantastic impacts on the young people that take part.
